Charter for the Social Sciences Department

Department/Division Philosophy and Mission:

We seek to establish and maintain a positive working environment of mutual respect for one another. As members of the Department, we have the right to be heard, respected, valued by one another, and supported as we share responsibility for implementing the Department Mission.

We establish this charter to specify the guidelines and principles we will use to facilitate the creation of the Department culture we seek. The charter outlines the process and principles for the development of policies and procedures to govern the operation of the Department.

Our Mission:

Social Sciences focus on the scientific study of human societies and social relationships. The Department incorporates distinct disciplines sharing this common focus. Faculty in each discipline work in their own academic sphere, but together we offer learning opportunities designed to help our students understand the diversity of human experiences, achieve their academic goals, and make positive contributions to society. We provide quality educational experiences so that our students can develop critical thinking skills, enabling them to meet the challenges of a complex global society, and to participate in our democracy as informed citizens.

Our objectives are:

- To help students establish lifelong habits for successful educational and occupational outcomes;
- To support faculty involvement in their respective disciplines;
- To foster an environment of collaboration across disciplines;
- To serve as a useful training resource for cultivating respect for diversity in society.

1. Guidelines for Approving and Amending the Charter:

1.1 Voting Members:

All residential faculty whose primary appointment is in the Social Sciences Department are considered to be voting members. For the purposes of this document, residential faculty are considered those with a primary appointment in the Social Sciences Department. The Department Chair votes as a regular voting member of the faculty. One Year Only (OYO), One Semester Only (OSO), and adjunct faculty with the Department are not voting members.

1.2 Proposing and Voting on Amendments:

Any residential faculty member may propose an amendment to the charter at any time during the months of accountability. A written motion via electronic mail must be submitted to members of the faculty, describing the nature of the amendment and documenting its need. All faculty members, including OYO, OSO, and adjunct faculty, will be given a minimum of ten (10) accountability days to read, consider, and provide comments on the proposed amendment prior to it being discussed in a formal Department meeting called for the purpose of discussing the proposed amendment. If, after discussion, at least 2/3 of the attending (in-person or virtual), eligible voting members vote for the amendment, it will be enacted effective immediately, subject to the approval of the College Faculty Senate for compliance with the Residential Faculty Agreement (RFA) and College Plan. Voting members who are unable to attend will have the opportunity to vote. At the request of any voting member, the vote will be held by secret ballot.

A failed motion to amend the charter does not preclude reconsideration at a later date.

1.3 Updating Charter to Ensure Compliance:

Within 12 months of a Department Chair election, the Department Chair will convene an ad hoc committee to review the charter in its entirety for compliance with the Residential Faculty Agreement. The Department Chair may revise the document to comply with District and College policies at any time. The Department Chair must provide an explanation to the faculty for review by the Department's voting members. Faculty may still submit an amendment to the Chair's revisions in accordance with the process outlined in 1.2.

1.4 Conflict:

The RFA takes precedence in the event of a conflict with this Charter.

2. Process of Identifying, Selecting, and Delegating Department/Division Leadership Roles:

The Department Chair shall follow the duties and obligations of a Chair as outlined in the Department Charter, College Plan, and RFA. The Chair has the primary responsibility for operating the Department in an efficient, professional manner. This includes day-to-day operations and policy implementation. Consultation with the Dean and/or VPAA is highly encouraged as appropriate to support the needs of the Department.

The Social Science Department recognizes that Department and College level issues, initiatives, and challenges are dynamic and that the needs of each Department Chair are individually-based and subject to change.

Each Department Chair shall perform the following duties unless such duties are reassigned to other supervisory faculty as outlined in the RFA. The Department Charter shall specify which of the duties listed below shall be performed by the Department Chair in exchange for their Department Chair stipend and required reassigned time. The Department Charter shall also specify the dispensation of the remaining reassigned time to other supervisory roles and which duties from below will be completed in exchange for that reassigned time. The remaining duties listed below may be performed by any Department faculty member in exchange for compensation as specified in the Department Charter and in compliance with the RFA:

3. Process for Elements of Shared Academic Freedom:

3.1 Course Materials

Course materials include any instructional resource used for teaching and learning in a course.

3.2 Courses Taught by a Single Faculty Member

Residential and Adjunct Faculty reserve the academic freedom to design and select the course materials appropriate for the classes they teach based on their pedagogical approach and in fulfillment of the course competencies.

3.3 Courses Taught by Multiple Faculty Members

All faculty teaching courses for which multiple sections are offered and taught by different instructors are encouraged to consider common materials. In such courses, the Assistant Chair responsible for the prefix may call a Course Committee to be composed of Residential Faculty members currently teaching at least one course in the prefix. Social Sciences believes it is best practice to include Adjunct Faculty in this process when practical and possible.

The Course Committee will develop a process to assess prospective course materials based on the published learning outcomes and course outline developed by the relevant Instructional Council. Any Course Committee member may propose course materials for consideration. If proposed for review, a material must be assessed using the established process. Upon completion of the review, all Residential Faculty members serving on the Course Committee will vote. The vote to adopt a common course material must be unanimous. In the absence of a unanimous vote, all faculty, Residential and Adjunct, will retain the academic freedom to select materials independently.

3.4 Review of Common Course Materials

Any course in which common course materials are used must be reviewed as outlined in Section 3.3 not less than once every five calendar years. Continued use will require continued unanimous support by all Residential Faculty in the prefix.

OYOs and OSOs will then be assigned overloads if they so desire. Remaining sections will be assigned to Adjunct Faculty in accordance with the procedure in 7.1.

5. Department/Division Meeting Schedule:

The Chair will call the formal Department meeting to include Residential Faculty, OYOs, OSOs, and staff during the first week of accountability. The Chair shall prepare and distribute a tentative agenda prior to the meeting with sufficient time for attendees to request that items be
